TREATMENTS

Hair Restoration: We have hair restoration options for every head and budget. Our hair restoration experts have the understanding and training you need to restore thinning or balding hair in both male and females. Our hair restoration techniques provide healthy, natural-looking results you want..... Call for Details.

Microblading: Microblading, also known as embroidery, microstroking, and feather touch, is a semi-permanent makeup that leaves the brows looking full, but in a very natural way. It differs from the traditional tattooing of makeup, because the artist uses a handheld microblading pen, and draws on each individual hair stroke, allowing the stroke to look just like your natural hair $675

Fractional CO2: Typically a one-time treatment that targets fine lines/ wrinkles, sun damage and melasma with minimal downtime. It stimulates new collagen, breaks up pigmentation and improves the texture and quality of the skin $1,499.00

Laser Vein Therapy/Sclerotherapy: Safely and effectively reduce the appearance of visible leg veins, including shallow spider veins and reticular veins, as well as veins on the face, neck and chest. Both treatments can be used interchangeably for optimal results$300

Thermage: Radio frequency energy is used to heat and stimulate the deep tissue that causes sagging and drooping skin, causing the collagen layer to tighten immediately with continued improvement over 4-6 months. This FDA cleared treatment targets problem areas like your face, neck, tummy, thighs, buttocks and upper arms with no downtime, injections or surgery from $1499

Pellevé/PelleFirm: A comfortable, non-invasive procedure that is FDA-cleared to reduce wrinkles, smooth and tighten skin with radio frequency technology. Improvement is immediate with increasing tightening over several months and there is no downtime from $475

Photofacial/IPL: An Intense Pulsed Light, not a laser, that stimulates the collagen producing cells, which reduces superficial acne scars, enlarged pores and fine lines. It improves uneven pigmentation, freckles, age spots, sun and smoking damage, liver spots and helps reduce rosacea, broken capillaries, and small surface veins..... $275

CoolSculpting: A FDA approved, non-invasive procedure that reduces fat in diet resistant areas with virtually no downtime. A process called Cryolipolysis cools the fat cells to break them down, which permanently and naturally removes them from the body without damaging other tissues from $749

Facial Vessels KTP laser: Used to treat red vessels on the face, typically found on the nose, cheeks, and chin. The laser is also used to treat generalized redness, commonly found on the cheeks and forehead in patients with rosacea..... $375

Erbium Laser Peel: A treatment used to smooth and lightly resurface the skin. It improves uneven pigmentation, smoothes acne scars, reduces pore size and decreases the appearance of fine lines and wrinkles. Patients have a high degree of satisfaction with their results. Many have seen 70% to 90% improvement. After successive treatments, the skin will feel smoother and appear to have a more even tone.$375

Photodynamic Therapy: Involves the application of a FDA approved light sensitizing agent, called Levulan. This "pre-treatment" with Levulan makes sun damaged skin, acne prone skin, and pre-cancerous skin lesions more sensitive to the subsequent treatment with Intense Pulsed Light or BLU-U face with IPL $850 face with BLU-U.$600

NanoFractional RF: Designed to smooth and tighten the skin with no downtime. The procedure delivers radiofrequency energy using microneedles to heat and stimulate the skin. The procedure is comfortable and targets superficial fine lines and wrinkles by stimulating the skin to rebuild collagen and elastin. NanoFractional is very effective at improving skin texture and firmness..... $550

DVD RF: Similar to NanoFractional, as it uses microneedling with radiofrequency energy delivered to the skin. The two differ in the depth of the skin that is targeted and the energy that can be delivered. DVD RF uses variable treatment depth and energy to customize treatment parameters to each individual patient. Since we are able to treat the skin at greater depths, we can also treat body areas with DVD RF.from $599

Microneedling: An aesthetic medical procedure that involves repeatedly puncturing the skin with tiny, sterile needles (microneedling the skin) in order to induce endogenous production of cutaneous collagen. A no downtime procedure that can dramatically improve the appearance of the skin and quality of both skin tone and texture. Treats various skin conditions such as fine lines and wrinkles, light scarring from acne and photo damage, and to improve skin color and other skin textures on your face and body from $299

ThermiVa: A new, non-surgical treatment for vaginal rejuvenation with absolutely no downtime. ThermiVa™ is the only non-surgical treatment available to safely, effectively and comfortably improve the form and function of the labial tissue and vaginal canal – improving the overall quality of life of many women and their partners while restoring their confidence and intimacy. $800

FAcE Custom: - 60 min	$95.00
(exfoliation, extractions, moisturizing, relaxation)

Specialty Treatments - These treatments offer the basic care of our signature facials with the added benefits of collagen stimulation, brightening and repairing.

Facial Infusion: - 45 min	$125.00
(collagen stimulation & brightening)
Oxymist: - 45 min	$120.00
(nourishing & repairing)

Exfoliating Treatments - Our exfoliating treatments focus on removing excess dead surface cells to brighten and smooth the skin. These treatments range from mild, manual exfoliation to medium depth chemical peels. Manual exfoliation instantly improves texture and tone with no downtime where chemical exfoliation stimulates collagen, reducing fine lines and crepiness, but may have the potential for visible sloughing after the treatment. The depth of exfoliation will effect potential downtime and how dramatic changes can be from a single treatment.

At Facial Aesthetic Concepts, we believe the foundation to healthy, youthful skin begins with results-oriented products and a comprehensive home care regimen. To ensure that your home care regimen contains all the key components to help you achieve and maintain your skin care goals, we use a simple tool called the GRASS method.

Growth Factors: Growth factors are secreted by all cell types that make up the epidermis and the dermis of the skin. They play an important role in maintaining healthy skin structure and function. Growth factors act as natural messenger proteins that allow communication between cells in our body. They are the control mechanism for all wound healing. One way in which they work is by repairing skin that is damaged from natural aging. As we age, our bodies produce lower levels of natural growth factors, resulting in more breakdown of collagen. This is important for us because collagen is the foundation of support to the skin. Topical skin care treatments that include epidermal growth factor (EGF) are invaluable against premature aging because they stimulate tissue regeneration and collagen production by re-energizing waning cellular DNA synthesis and triggering our skin's natural ability to heal.

Retinol's & Exfoliants: Retinol is a derivative of vitamin A, which helps with cellular turnover (exfoliation in the skin). It stimulates the skin cells underneath the epidermis and not just on top layer. Since this is where the collagen and elastin exist, the Retinol molecules are able to effectively improve the firmness and smoothness of aging skin, which has the tendency to wrinkle and become dull. Retinol is highly regarded as one of the best substances in fighting the signs of aging. It'll give the healthy skin cells underneath the chance to become the epidermis, where currently, dead skin cells are currently collecting.

Antioxidants: Antioxidants fight free radicals that harm the cells, causing damage and premature aging. Antioxidants in skin care products help in preventing future damages and repairing past damages in the cells. When antioxidants are in our skin care regimen they help our skin fight free radical damage. Over time this protection helps to prevent premature aging, reduce the appearance of fine lines and wrinkles, and keep proper moisture in the skin. Antioxidants also assist in the production of collagen and elastin, so wrinkles and fine lines can be minimized. Vitamins C, E, Green Tea, Zinc are just some forms of antioxidants that will help provide the skin with the nutrients it needs to keep it healthy and help achieve more youthful skin.

Specialty Products: Take your skin's health to the next level by customizing your daily routine according to your skin concerns. We provide products to help achieve an even skin tone and prevent any additional hyper-pigmentation on the skin. You can nourish your skin with additional hydration to help plump fine lines and wrinkles and improve any dryness by using the leading hyaluronic acid-based products. Improve the skin's clarity by removing dirt and oil left behind from manual cleansing with modern and enhanced cleansing tools.

Sun Protection: Prolonged exposure to UV rays can lead to a number of skin concerns, including premature aging due to the breakdown of collagen and elastin, dry, dehydrated or burnt skin, dark spots & discoloration, visible blood vessels, and skin cancer. We carry a variety of different options of sun protection to fit your daily lifestyle such as: chemical free sunscreens, tinted and non-tinted options, antioxidant rich and moisturizing sunscreens.
